

An fMRI analysis workstation with BrainVoyager to localise brain areas that have specific functions in the interaction between perception and action. This research contributes to our understanding of brain and behaviour, but also allows us to make recommendations for treatment of disorders suffered by brain-damaged individuals.